Overview & Current Events

Cisco Systems is the global leader in high performance computer networking systems. The company's routers and switches allow networks around the world to connect to each other through the internet. Cisco also offers data center, cloud, and security products. The company went public on February 16th, 1990. Today, Cisco employs more than 79,000 people and generates $52 billion in annual revenues.

On February 14th, 2024, Cisco announced a 2.6% dividend increase in the quarterly payment to $0.40.

On March 18th, 2024, Cisco completed its $28 billion purchase of cybersecurity company Splunk.

On May 15th, 2024, Cisco announced results for the third quarter of fiscal year 2024. For the quarter, revenue declined 12.8% to $12.7 billion, but this was $70 million ahead of estimates. Adjusted earnings-per-share of $0.88 compared unfavorably to adjusted earnings-per-share of $1.00 in the prior year, but this was $0.06 more than anticipated.

This was the first quarter that included the company's acquisition of Splunk, which contributed $4.3 billion to the annualized recurring revenue total of $29.2 billion. For the most recent quarter, Networking fell 27%, Security grew by 36%, Collaboration was flat, and Observability was improved 27%. By region, the Americas declined 15%, Europe/Middle East/Africa was down 9%, and Asia-Pacific/Japan/China was lower by 12%. Total gross margins expanded 170 basis points to 65.1%. Deferred revenue grew 13% to $27.5 billion. Cisco repurchased 26 million shares at an average price of $49.22 during the quarter. The company's remaining share repurchase authorization is $7.2 billion, or 3.7% of the current market cap.

Cisco provided an updated outlook for fiscal year 2024 as well, with the company now expecting revenue in a range of $53.6 billion to $53.8 billion, compared to $51.5 billion to $52.5 billion, $53.8 billion to $55 billion, and $57 billion to $58.2 billion previously. Adjusted earnings-per-share is projected in a range of $3.69 to $3.71, compared to $3.68 to $3.74, $3.87 to $3.93, and $4.01 to $4.08 previously. We have updated our forecast accordingly.

Between 2014 and 2023, Cisco's earnings increased at a rate of 7.3% per year. The growth rate has decelerated to 3.7% when looking at the last five years. We reaffirm our expected growth rate of 6% due to a combination of improving margins and share repurchases offset by revenue weakness.

Cisco has increased its dividend for 14 consecutive years. For much of this time, shareholders have seen impressive dividend growth since the company instituted its dividend, though growth has slowed considerably over the past few years. We have lowered our expected dividend growth rate to 2.5% to better reflect recent increases.

Valuation Analysis

Year	2014	2015	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020	2021	2022	2023	Now	2029
Avg. P/E	11.3	12.3	11.5	13.3	15.1	16.1	15.5	17.2	14.0	13.4	13.0	14.0
Avg. Yld.	3.1%	2.9%	3.5%	3.5%	3.2%	2.7%	2.8%	2.6%	3.3%	3.0%	3.3%	2.6%

Shares of Cisco have declined $1, or 2.0%, since our February 16th, 2024 report. The 2009 to 2010 time frame saw shares of Cisco trade with a well above average price-to-earnings multiple. Over the last decade, shares have traded with an average P/E of 14.0. Given the company's overall business performance of the past few years, growth in deferred revenue, and large cash balance, we maintain our target P/E of 14.0. Shares are trading at 13 times our expected earnings-per-share for the fiscal year, implying a valuation tailwind. Multiple expansion could add 1.5% to annual returns through fiscal year 2029.

Safety, Quality, Competitive Advantage, & Recession Resiliency

Year	2014	2015	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020	2021	2022	2023	2024	2029
Payout	35%	36%	40%	46%	51%	45%	45%	45%	45%	40%	43%	37%

Cisco ended the second quarter of fiscal 2024 with $18.8 billion in cash and equivalents and investments. Given the cash on the balance sheet, it is likely that Cisco would be able to continue to pay a dividend even in the event of an extended recession.

With everything from computers to cell phones to buildings connected today, Cisco is in a prime position to capitalize on the Internet of Things. In fact, Cisco is responsible for 80% of all the data moved over the internet in the past 30+ years. While Cisco continues to enjoy hardware dominance, the company is attempting to become more of a subscription services company. This should help create more predictable revenue streams. One such example of this effort is the Catalyst 9K switch. This switch is twice as fast as competing products and protects data and cloud networks.

Final Thoughts & Recommendation

Cisco Systems is projected to return 10.2% annually over the next five years, up slightly from our prior estimate of 9.8%. Our estimated return stems from a 6% earnings growth rate, a starting yield of 3.3% dividend yield, and a low single-digit contribution from multiple expansion. Cisco's results were down from the prior year, but still ahead of what the market expected. The acquisition of Splunk should add meaningfully to results going forward. We note again that the stock's yield is much higher than the typical technology name, but we continue to expect lower dividend growth moving forward. We have lowered our five-year price target $1 to $69 because of guidance for the fiscal year, but now rate shares of Cisco as a buy due to projected returns.
