Overview & Current Events

Ameren Corporation owns rate-regulated generation, transmission, and distribution networks that deliver electricity and natural gas in Missouri and Illinois. The company serves 2.4 million electricity customers and more than 900,000 natural gas customers. It primarily generates electricity through coal, nuclear, and natural gas, as well as renewable sources, such as hydroelectric, wind, methane gas, and solar. The company serves residential (49% of revenues), commercial (34%), and industrial customers (17%). This $21.8 billion company was founded in 1881 and has about 9,400 employees.

On August 1st, 2024, Ameren Corporation released its second quarter results for the period ending June 30th, 2024. For the quarter, the company reported net income of $258 million and $0.97 earnings per diluted share, compared to the same quarter a year ago net income of $237 million and $0.90 earnings per diluted share. The reported earnings increased by 7.8% year-over-year, driven by earnings on increased infrastructure investments, new Ameren Missouri electric service rates, and higher electric retail sales, which were partially offset by higher operations and maintenance expenses, and increased interest expenses at Ameren Parent. Total revenues came in at $1,693 million in the quarter, which decreased 3.8% year-over-year.

Ameren's total electricity sales volumes increased to 17,782 million kilowatt-hours (kWh) in the second quarter compared with 17,000 million kWh in the year-ago quarter. Gas volumes remained steady at 99 million dekatherms. Total operating expenses were $1,332 million, down 6.9% year-over-year. The company's interest expenses in the second quarter were $165 million compared with the prior-year quarter's $134 million. Ameren has the goal to invest approximately $21.9 billion in various projects from 2024 to 2028, aiming to support its target of net-zero carbon emissions by 2050.

During the investor update, the company presented a positive outlook, underpinned by robust infrastructure investments detailed in the recent earnings call. Ameren expects diluted earnings per share to grow at a 6% to 8% compound annual rate from 2024 through 2028. For 2024, Ameren reaffirmed its earnings guidance, projecting that earnings per share will range from $4.52 to $4.72. The company also aims to align future dividend growth with its long-term earnings per share growth expectations, maintaining a planned payout ratio between 55% and 65% of annual EPS. This strategy highlights Ameren's commitment to delivering shareholder value with a sustainable and attractive dividend.

Updated August 20th, 2024, by Patrick Neuwirth

We expect the company to grow its earnings-per-share by 7.0% per year on average over the next five years. The company has a good earnings track record and will benefit from gas and electricity rate hikes. This should compensate for the effects of higher operating and maintenance costs, depreciation, and slightly higher average shares outstanding. The company has a long history of paying dividends and has increased its payout for 11 consecutive years. In February 2024, the quarterly dividend increased by 6.3% from $0.63 to $0.67 per share. Over the last five years, the average annual dividend growth rate is 6.9%.

Valuation Analysis

Year	2014	2015	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020	2021	2022	2023	Now	2029
Avg. P/E	16.7	17.5	18.3	20.6	18.3	22.1	22.2	21.4	21.5	17.5	18.0	20.0

During the past decade shares of Ameren Corporation have traded with an average price-to-earnings ratio of about 19.6 times earnings and today, it stands at 18.0. We are using 20 times earnings as a fair value baseline, implying the potential for a valuation tailwind. The company's dividend yield is currently 3.2% and the raises in the last few years have contributed to total returns.

Safety, Quality, Competitive Advantage, & Recession Resiliency

Year	2014	2015	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020	2021	2022	2023	2024	2029
Payout	67%	70%	64%	64%	56%	57%	57%	57%	57%	58%	58%	56%

During the past five years, the company's dividend payout ratio has averaged around 57%. The company has a projected 2023 payout ratio of 58%, which indicates a sustainable dividend and is within Ameren's target³ payout range of 55%-65%. We expect that earnings growth will be stable, meaning that there is still room for the dividend to continue to grow with a payout ratio below 60%. Ameren Corporation is investing very heavily in renewable energy and growing its rate base. Any increase to the rate base allows the company to increase the price that it charges to its customers. This will help Ameren to maintain a sustainable earnings growth rate. Investing in the energy grid should also improve reliability (less outage), increase customer satisfaction, and will result in attractive rates for customers below the US average. The expected compound annual rate base growth³ 2023 through 2028 is 8.2%.

Final Thoughts & Recommendation

Ameren Corporation is a quality stock in terms of its earnings growth track record, its earnings growth outlook, its dividend yield, and its infrastructure investments related to the net-zero carbon emission target for 2050. We estimate a total return of 11.8% from a 3.2% yield, 7% EPS growth, and a valuation tailwind. Shares earn a buy rating.
