Overview & Current Events

Quaker Chemical Corporation (KWR), which operates as Quaker Houghton, was founded in 1918 as Quaker Oil Products Corporation. The company develops, produces, and markets a broad range of formulated chemical specialty products and offers chemical management services for various heavy industrial and manufacturing applications worldwide. The company's business is divided into four segments, namely the Americas, Europe, Middle East and Africa, Asia/Pacific, and Global Specialty Businesses. With over 35 locations in 21 countries, Quaker Houghton has a global presence and generates more than 50% of net sales outside the United States.

On October 31st, 2024, the company announced results for the third quarter of 2024. KWR reported Q3 non-GAAP EPS of $1.89, missing market estimates by $0.19.

Quaker Houghton posted Q3 2024 net sales of $462.3 million, reflecting a 6% year-over-year decline due to a challenging macroeconomic environment and softer end-market conditions. Despite the revenue dip, the company demonstrated resilience with net income of $32.3 million ($1.81 per diluted share) and non-GAAP earnings of $1.89 per diluted share. Adjusted EBITDA came in at $78.6 million with a 17.0% margin, underscoring effective cost management and operational efficiencies. Year-to-date, Quaker Houghton has generated $141.5 million in operating cash flow and maintained a strong balance sheet, with a net leverage ratio of 1.6x.

CEO Andy Tometich highlighted the company's robust operational execution, driven by consistent volumes from new business wins despite softer conditions in key markets. Tometich noted progress in portfolio simplification and cost discipline, which supported improved year-to-date operating margins in the Americas segment. Looking ahead, Quaker Houghton expects continued market challenges through year-end but remains confident in the long-term fundamentals of its industry. The company plans to leverage its strong cash generation capabilities to accelerate growth, execute its enterprise strategy, and enhance shareholder value. Lastly, the company has appointed Joseph Berquist as its new CEO and President, as well as a member of the Board of Directors, effective immediately, succeeding Andy Tometich.

for quick access to new technologies and markets. In addition, the company focuses on improving operational efficiency through lean manufacturing and automation, reducing costs, and enhancing profitability.

We have revised our EPS forecast to $7.72 for 2024, the midpoint of analysts' estimates. Additionally, we believe that the firm can grow annually slightly faster than the Special Chemical industry's projected growth of 4%. With a 5.0% annual growth rate, KWR's EPS could reach $9.85 by 2029. Quaker Chemical Corporation's DPS had a 10-year and five-year CAGR of 5.0% and 10.0%, respectively. However, the company's approach to managing its capital supports the payment of competitive cash dividends. Thus, we have assumed a relatively moderate annual growth of 4.0%.

Valuation Analysis

For heavy industrial and manufacturing applications, Quaker Chemical Corporation enjoys a competitive edge in producing and selling a variety of Special Chemical formulations. Because of this edge over competitors, the business can increase profits and benefit its shareholders. Quaker Chemical demonstrated outstanding financial performance with a 10.0% increase in revenue during FY2022 compared to FY2021 during the most recent economic downturn. In Q3 2024, Quaker Houghton repurchased 89,088 shares for approximately $14.6 million, reflecting its commitment to returning value to shareholders.

Final Thoughts & Recommendation

We maintain our buy rating on the stock premised upon the 12.9% annualized total returns for the medium-term, derived from the forecasted earnings-per-share growth of 5.0%, the 1.2% dividend yield, and a valuation tailwind.
